CLOUDS DOWN VERY LOW TODAY

Especially so Are the Orange Clouds Since Father Clouds is in Trouble.

FILES MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Believes $100 Fine and Day in Jail Sentence is Too Heavy For Hitting Creek.

The Clouds of Rush and Fayette county are hanging very low today. They are disconsolate and sad almost high unto weeping. In fact they did weep a few times. But this particular cloud, Allen Clouds of Orange, together with all of the little tributary Clouds that are dependent upon him, are especially sad because he must pay a $100 fine, costs of a case in the Fayette circuit court and "lay" out a one day jail sentence in the Fayette county jail.

Clouds has filed a motion for a new trial because he does not believe he was treated justly by the powers that be. The argument on the motion will be heard in Connersville Saturday. The case has proved to be an especially costly one for him, as he will not only have the expenses of an attorney to pay, but he will have to settle all of the costs of the case, which will amount to about fifty dollars, aside from paying his own fine of $100.

The result of the case came as a big surprise, but it seems that the jury had a hard time arriving at a verdict and that there were some who favored even a more severe punishment, so it is said. The jury was out all night and did not return a verdict until about five o'clock in the morning. It is asserted that some members of the jury held out for a long time for a five hundred dollar fine and a thirty days jail sentence.

The story of the encounter in the Wells Stephens store in Orange on the night of December fourteenth, was brought out at the hearing in Connersville. Stevens testified that Clouds came into the store while Logan was playing a fiddle for the amusement of the crowd, and invited him to come out of doors and settle some difference between them. This Logan refused to do. The invitation was repeated. Clouds grew angry and seized the other man by the collar. A scuffle ensued in the course of which Creek was struck about the head and painfully wounded.

WILSON DENIED NEW TRIAL

Supreme Court Ruled Against Fayette County Man Yesterday.

Many local people will remember John Wilson, who was convicted in the Fayette county circuit court for the murder of his wife March 3, 1909. Yesterday the supreme court affirmed the verdict of the jury and the rulings of the lower court. The attorneys for Wilson asked to have the verdict set aside on the ground that the lower court had erred in admitting the testimony of William Fenton in the third trial. Wilson was tried three times. At the first trial the jury disagreed; at the second, Wilson was convicted of murder in the first degree and at the third trial he was convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The secret of making glass mirrors was known in 23 A. D., but was lost and not regained until 1,300 years later.

IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Jesse Vandiver Thought to be Injured Internally.

Charles Sparks, who was injured in a runaway at Glenwood Monday afternoon was reported today to be resting fine. He fell on his head, causing concussion of the brain. He also suffered a fractured rib and was thought to be injured to a greater extent than his companion, Jesse Vandiver, whose hip was fractured. However it developed today that the latter is in a much more serious condition, it being feared that he has been injured internally. The results are doubtful. Mr. Sparks' condition is not nearly as bad as was at first supposed.

WANTS TO HONOR DEAD VETERANS

Nathan Weeks, Representative From This County, Will Introduce Bill

OLD VETERANS BACKING HIM

Nathan Weeks, representative in the Legislature from Rush county, has a bill which he will introduce probably on the next roll call for bills, providing for the erection of markers at the graves of all soldiers, sailors or mariners. The measure has the backing of the old soldiers of the State, of which Mr. Weeks is one. The bill provides that upon petition of at least five reputable freeholders of any township or municipality to the county commissioners, the commissioners shall provide suitable metal markers for the graves of all soldiers, sailors or mariners who were honorably discharged and who at any time may have served in the regular or volunteer service and who are buried in the township or municipality. The bill provides that the names of the deceased soldiers, sailors or mariners shall be given in the petition.

MARGISON DIED THIS MORNING

Relief Came to Inmate of the County Poor Asylum Who Was Suffering From Cancer.

WILL BE BURIED TOMORROW

David Margison, seventy-one years old, an inmate of the county poor asylum and who was hit by an I. & C. traction car Monday night, died this morning about nine o'clock.

Margison stepped in front of the traction car and received a glancing blow, being brushed off the track. He had suffered from a cancer on the left side of his face and it is believed by the attending physician that the injuries received from coming in contact with the car did not prove fatal. It may have hastened his death, but could not have caused it. Nothing is known concerning his relatives. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. Burial will take place in the poor farm cemetery.

PLAN 1845 MILES TRIP ON MOTORS

"Motorcycle Clan" of Rushville Expects to See Most of East in Two Weeks.

WILL GO LATTER PART OF JUNE

With a Day in Atlantic City and 2½ in New York, They Hope to See Much.

The "motorcycle clan" of Rushville is preparing the biggest "joy ride" that ever was given impetus in this city and that ever started out with the expectation of returning alive. They will make a trip that will include—that's the way the map lies now—most of the eastern States. They will be gone fifteen days, that is, of course, barring blow-outs and numerous other difficulties that a motor cyclist may and, in fact, generally does have.

They are, that is the six members of the party who are planning to go, expecting little if any trouble and hope to return to Rushville like conquering heroes, that they will be. They plan to cover at least 1,845 miles, which does not include the side trips which they may take in the larger cities. Before they return they will see all of the sights of New York City, Atlantic City and those of nearly every other large city in the East. According to the present "dope sheet" they will spend the greater part of the fifteen days in sight seeing and the minor portions of the days will be spent in riding through the country. They believe their plan the ideal one for seeing the country as they can go as fast or as slowly as they care and can stop when they please, that is, so long as they do not infringe too much on the scheduled time.

They will leave the latter part of June and will go almost direct to Gettysburg, Pa., by the national road, which is unexcelled for motor driving. They will pass through Columbus, Ohio, Wheeling and Cumberland, West Virginia, where the national road ends. From there they will ride on through Hagerstown, Maryland, to Gettysburg. From there they plan to go to Philadelphia with a one day side trip to Atlantic City, where they may speed their bikes up and down the celebrated board walk, all things permitting, which they will not do.

Going to New York City, they will "ferry" in by way of St. George and Staten Island and remain there two days and one-half. From New York they will follow the Hudson and get a view of the beautiful and historical scenery down to Albany, when they will "side-track" and cut across New York State via Auburn and Rochester to Buffalo, where they expect to remain a day and see the Niagara Falls. From Buffalo they will "beat it" for home by way of Cleveland, Toledo and Fort Wayne, remaining in Cleveland one-half day for their last sight seeing trip.

BANK STATEMENTS.

The statements of all of the national banks and trust companies with the exception of the Farmers Trust Company, are published on page four of today's issue. They show that all of the financial institutions of the city are in a flourishing condition, which speaks volumes for Rushville. The Farmers Trust company publishes no statement as it is yet a young institution, having started business only the first of this year.

TURN LIBRARY OVER TO BOARD

Daughters of American Revolution Free Themselves From All Connection With Institution.

WHICH THEY HAD ORIGINATED

Board Effects Organization and Begins Campaign to Collect Subscriptions.

Late yesterday afternoon, the library board, consisting of seven members, appointed by the court, city and school board, met in the library room in the court house and effected a permanent organization. The library was formally turned over to the board by the Daughters of the American Revolution who are responsible for the present library and who, by their earnest endeavor and "sticktuitiveness," managed to establish an institution here, after many such attempts in the past had been miserable failures.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Will M. Sparks, president; J. H. Scholl, vice president; Mrs. Jessie Gary, secretary, and Mary Sleeth, librarian.

The subscriptions heretofore made by the various citizens are now due, and the Board is very anxious to have them paid as soon as possible. These subscriptions are due in eight equal installments—one each three months, and the board has made arrangements with Miss Mary Sleeth to receive them. Subscribers may pay all of their subscription at once, if they so desire.

Miss Sleeth will be at the rest room at the court house each day at the regular library hours for the purpose of receiving subscriptions. Each subscriber is urged to attend to this matter at once and save the members of the board the time and trouble of going to see each subscriber.

The Rest Room established by the Daughters of the American Revolution in the court house has proven to be very popular—numbers of women and children availing themselves of its use every day. Its popularity has increased materially since it has been re-furnished with funds supplied by the county council and county commissioners.

It is now a very beautiful room, providing its patrons not only with rest and comfort, but pleasure as well for with its harmonious furnishings, good reading material, comfortable rocking chairs and couches it is a place where the women and children of Rush county may enjoy a quiet hour at any time while in the city.

The following is a report on the library from the day of its opening, June 11, 1910, until the day the Daughters of the American Revolution turned it over to the board, January 11, 1911. The institution was

PROPOSED BILL FOR ORPHANS' HOME

Would Admit Grand Children of Veterans, Thus Increasing the Diminished Attendance.

COMMITTEE MET YESTERDAY

The committee from the legislature on State Soldiers' Home and State Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home yesterday acted favorably on the bill referred to it, providing for the admittance to the Indiana Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home at Knightstown of two new eligible classes of children. President Luther Short of the home attended the meeting and suggested slight changes in the phraseology of the measure, which were accepted. The bill proposes to admit orphans of veterans of the civil war and orphaned grand-children of veterans.

The daily average attendance at the Knightstown Home has decreased nearly 50 per cent. in recent years and it is contended that there is room in the institution for children, other than children of soldiers. Because of this condition it was feared that the State Board of Charities would try and get control of the institution.

The proposed bill would increase attendance and there need be no fear from the State Board of Charities. This bill is the outcome of a movement started among the G. A. R. and W. R. C. forces.

PRIZE FOR BEST CORN

Lewisville Bank Makes Offer For the Coming Institute.

The farmers' institute, which had been announced to be held in Lewisville on the 16th, has been postponed. As now arranged it will be in the nature of a joint institute and corn show and will come off in February. The First National bank of that place has offered twenty-five dollars in prizes for the best corn and it is understood that Lewisville merchants will add a snug sum so that corn growers will all "take notice."

TO TAKE A FALL OUT OF DEHORITY

Scott County Representative Demands Accounting From Chief of State Board of Accounts.

SAYS COST IS FAR TOO HIGH

Asserts Board Head is Like a Czar While Assistants Are But Lackeys.

With the avowed purpose of taking a fall out of W. A. Dehority, chief examiner of the state board of accounts, Representative S. B. Wells of Scott county introduced in the lower house this week a bill proposing important changes in the public accounting law, says the Indianapolis Sun. Accompanying the bill was a resolution calling on Mr. Dehority to make complete report of the work and expenses of the accounting board since its organization.

If the state accountant is himself compelled to make an accounting Representative Wells asserts it will show an expense to the taxpayers of $400,000 under the present law. He believes at least $250,000 annually can be saved by the amendments proposed in his bill.

"Mr. Dehority runs the board of accounts after the manner of a czar," declares the Scott county representative. "The other people around the office, including the deputies and the legal adviser, are no more than his lackeys. His high-handed methods have antagonized dozens of people throughout the State. We propose that all of the examiners shall have equal authority."

Representative Wells' antipathy to Dehority began when he attempted to make a settlement of the shortages found by field examiners in the accounts of Charles T. Deal, trustee of Vienna township, Scott county. Mr. Dehority refused to consider a settlement and suit was brought against Deal for $60,000 including $50,000 alleged to be due the county and $10,000 damages.

"If Mr. Dehority makes the report demanded by my resolution it will show that the present accounting system has been an expensive luxury," he says. "In Shelby county the examinations cost the taxpayers $2,000 and shortages totaling $105 were found. In Scott county the examiners demanded fees amounting to $1,500 for investigating the books of the five trustees, the treasurer and the county auditor."

"By the changes contemplated in our bill the number of field examiners will be reduced from 125 to twenty. They will make biennial examinations of all public institutions and can be sent out to conduct investigations of city, county, township and school officials. A uniform system of accounting must be established for all public offices, after which they are required to make annual financial reports to the state board of accounts. Expert accountants may be employed by the municipalities to examine the accounts of their officials, but their salaries shall not exceed $10 per day. They will have the same rights when conducting examinations as are given the state examiners and their field examiners."

In 1899 there were only fifty motor cars in America.

PROUD OF NEW BUILDING.

Gwynneville's new school building is one of the finest in the state. It was completed September 25, 1910 at an approximate cost of $19,000. The plans and specifications for the structure were prepared by W. N. Kaufmann, a well known architect of Richmond, Ind. The architect also supervised the construction of the building. The contract was awarded March 27, 1909, to Colvin & Anderson, of Lynne, Ind. The building is equipped with modern and up-to-date improvements, including a direct and indirect heating system. There is a basement under the entire structure in which there are separate toilet rooms for boys and girls, play rooms and other apartments. The ventilating system was arranged in such a manner that the air in the building is hundred and fifty times an hour. Three hundred fifty students can be conveniently cared for in the structure which contains twenty-eight separate apartments. In its construction 300,000 brick's were used. There are eighty windows in the building, making a total of 1,500 square feet of window glass. The structure contains an assembly room which will seat three hundred persons. The library room on the second floor is one of the finest rooms in the building. The interior is finished in mission style. There are eight flights of stairs in addition to the fire escapes. School children, living in the east precinct of Hanover township, receive instruction at the building.

After the building was completed Trustee D. E. Shelton, of Hanover township, sent a photograph of the structure to Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the State board of health, with a request that he pass a verdict on the general appearance and the manner of constructing the building. Mr. Shelton was highly pleased when Dr. Hurty wrote that the building was one of the best in the state. Dr. Hurty also examined the plans for the building before the contract for its erection was awarded. Trustee Shelton deserves much commendation for the judgment he displayed in providing such a building for the school children of his township.

"Why ain't you John Kelley, the senate doorkeeper?"

"Oh, dear me," exclaimed Huffman, burying his face in his hands. "If John Kelley hears about this he certainly will have me arrested."

The point of the joke is that Colonel Huffman is a rank Republican, even if he does look like the genial keeper of the senate portals.

BREWERS HAVE A MEASURE UP

Bill To Regulate Liquor Traffic
In Indiana.

MANY CHANGES ARE PROPOSED

The Hoosier Legislature Will Have Much to Discuss in Connection With Proposed Amendment of the Local Option Law, Not the Least Important Point Being a Bill Sponsored by Brewers' Association.

Indianapolis, Jan. 12.—A saloon license would be a valuable asset which might be renewed, transferred to another location or sold by the holder, under the bill to regulate the saloon business in Indiana, as drawn by the Association of Indiana Brewers, and this is pointed out by the framers of the bill as the feature which would make saloon keepers obey the law. It provides that the license may be revoked or suspended for violations of the law, prevents brewery ownership of saloons, increases the saloon license fee, limits the number of saloons to one for each 500 of population, and makes many other changes in the present law. The bill was placed in the hands of Senator Proctor for introduction in the senate and Representative Seldenticker for introduction in the house.

The bill has been months in preparation, and it is said that lawyers in various cities of the state representing numerous breweries have had a hand in its preparation. It is intended to supplement the local option bill, and is merely the bill to regulate the traffic after the city, town or township has decided to have saloons. The bill is wholly different from the present laws of this state, but the framers say they have taken the good points from the laws of some of the other states where similar laws have worked well.

Trainmen's Bills Are Introduced.

Two labor bills in the interest of trainmen have been introduced in the senate, one by Senator Stotsenburg, calling for experienced men only in the operation of locomotives and as conductors, and the other by Senator Clark, being a "full switch crew" bill.

The measure proposed by Senator Stotsenburg provides that no person shall be permitted to operate a locomotive between division terminal points, unless the person has had three years' experience as fireman or engineman. No person shall be permitted to act as conductor of a passenger train unless he has served two years as a brakeman or a conductor of a freight train. The Clark bill provides that a full crew for switching shall consist of an engineer, fireman, foreman and two helpers, the latter to have had one year's experience as a switchman.

An employers' liability bill, intended to strengthen and enlarge the scope of the act passed about twenty years ago, but which the supreme court held applied only to employees of railroads, has been introduced by Senator Deal. The measure provides there shall be no assumption of risk on the part of the employee, and does away with the fellow-servant rule. Contributory negligence shall be no bar to recovery.

To Keep Boys on Farm.

Keep the boys on the farm by offering them better opportunities for industrial and agricultural training, is the stand taken by Senator Yarbrough of Shelbyville, who has introduced a bill along this line. The bill provides that the governor shall appoint a commission of seven persons to be known as the commission on industrial and agricultural education. The measure specifies that "the commission shall investigate the needs for education in the different industries of Indiana, how far the needs are met by existing institutions, and shall consider what new forms of educational effort may be advisable, and shall make such investigation as may be practicable through printed reports and the testimony of experts as to the similar educational work done by other states, by the United States and by foreign governments."

A bill directed against "stock watering" is among the measures championed by Senator Proctor. The bill provides that no stock shall be issued by any corporation for profit at any time, unless it is paid for dollar for dollar in money, or in money's worth. Any payment other than in money is to be regarded as prima facie valuation only, and the true value may be open to inquiry at the instigation of any creditor or on relation of the attorney general.

In the senate yesterday twenty-one bills were introduced, including an employers' liability bill, two child labor bills, an Indianapolis playground bill, a bill for the abolition of the death penalty in Indiana, and a bill for the regulation of train crews. Thirty-two bills were introduced in the house and a joint resolution providing for amending the constitution to provide the initiative and referendum.

DO YOU GET YOUR MONEY'S WORTH?

Every day buying is becoming more of a science.

To buy the right kind of goods at the right prices requires discrimination and care—anyone can rush out and buy any old kind of goods from the first dealer he finds.

Some people fail to get the most for their money when it comes to buying their supplies, but are very particular about unimportant matters.

A great help in this direction are the advertisements of the merchants.

Before visiting the stores one can make the task comparatively easy by securing a great deal of information from the announcements of the dealers.

Then shopping can be more intelligently done.

A dealer's sins will sooner or later find him out if he makes a misstatement in his advertisement, and you may depend upon it that he can not keep it up for any great length of time.

It will lose him trade.

The dealer can not afford to misrepresent. He tells the public exactly what he has to sell and explains in honest terms the value of his goods. He is worthy of your confidence and can be depended upon implicitly. This dealer regularly makes his announcements through the columns of the newspapers.

Advertising is the searchlight which reveals true character and only the truth alone can stand regular advertising.

It will pay you to read the advertisements.

LOVED WOMAN CALLED AWAY
Mrs. Lucy Cowing, Former Rushville Resident, Expires at Her Home In Muncie.
FRIENDS AND RELATIVES HERE
Last Sad Rites Were Performed Over Body at Two O'clock This Afternoon.
The funeral services of Mrs. Granville E. Cowing, who died at her home in Muncie Tuesday night were conducted this afternoon at two o'clock at the residence. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cowing intended to be present for the obsequies, but were unable to go on account of Mrs. Cowing's illness. The Muncie Press says of her life.
Mrs. Lucy Cowing, 80, one of the first pioneers of the county, a very well known and highly respected woman, and wife of Granville Cowing, retired farmer, died Tuesday night at 11 o'clock at the family residence, 108 Riverside avenue, Riverside, after an illness of only a few hours. Death was due to a stroke of apoplexy. Mrs. Cowing was seated at the dinner table yesterday at noon when she suffered the stroke. She did not regain consciousness before she died at 11 o'clock.
Mrs. Cowing was born in Ireland, January 6, 1831, daughter of Edward and Nancy Moran. When a child her parents moved to America and settled along the Atlantic coast. She was married to Granville Cowing and they moved to Delaware county shortly before the civil war. They moved to a farm about three miles northwest of the city and resided there until about three years ago, when they moved to the city and took up residence at 108 Riverside avenue.
Mrs. Cowing was a very lovable woman and made a host of friends by her gentle and kind ways. She was a member of the M. E. church located about three miles northwest of the city and always took an active part in the services. Since moving to Muncie she attended the High Street M. E. church.
Besides the husband there survives three daughters and two sons as follows:

lows: Mrs. Harriet F. Case, Mrs. Anna Moore, Mrs. Florence Marsh, Lewis Cowing, a former county commissioner, and Dr. Hugh A. Cowing, county health commissioner, all of this city.
Mr. Cowing, the surviving husband, was a printer in his youth and was a resident of Rushville and worked on the Republican.

TO PUT RUSH ON DECATUR COUNTY
Representative Billman of Shelby County To Propose Bill to Destroy 16th Judicial District.
MEASURE IS NOT COMPLETE
Plans to Make Shelby Separate Judicial District on Account of Volume of Business.
Representative Billman of Shelby county is preparing a bill which will be introduced later in the week, in the legislature, providing for a shifting of the boundaries of judicial districts, which will affect ten cities. He is conferring with representatives from other counties in framing the bill. His purpose is to make Shelby county a judicial district. The counties affected by the proposed change are Shelby, Rush, Decatur, Johnson, Bartholomew, Jackson, Lawrence, Ripley, Jennings and Scott.
The bill is not yet completed, but Mr. Billman proposes that Ripley, Jennings and Scott counties shall form one district; Jackson and Lawrence, another, and Johnson and Bartholomew a third. Rush county will be taken from Shelby and with Decatur county will form another district, leaving Shelby county with a separate court.
In support of the proposed measure Mr. Billman says the work of the Shelby County court is overcrowded owing to an increase of manufacturing plants in the county and the changes of venue from Marion county taken to Shelby to obtain early trial.
"Danville, Hendricks county, which is much smaller than Shelbyville, has a separate court," said Mr. Billman. "During the last year nearly half of the time of the Shelby court terms has been devoted to the trial of cases from Marion county. The docket is crowded and many cases are awaiting trial.

SOCIETY NEWS

Connersville News: Mrs. W. Allen, Mrs. Anna Mary Cowing and Mrs. Jane Kitchen, all of Rushville and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Leffingwell were very pleasantly entertained at dinner last night by the Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Clark.

* * *

Walter F. Toney of Milroy and Miss Bessie E. Allison of St. Paul were married this afternoon by the Rev. Hyde at the First M. E. church parsonage. The happy couple left for Cincinnati, Ohio, and on their return will reside on a farm near Milroy.

The Star says in part of an Indianapolis wedding last night in which many local people are interested, the bride being extensively related here: The marriage of Miss Bradley Bliss, only daughter of Mrs. Mary Harriet Bliss, and John Cravens Sage, last evening was a beautiful ceremony. The service was pronounced at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother by the Rev. James Sargent. The marriage was a very quiet one and was witnessed by a limited company, composed mainly of relatives. The service was impressive, the simplicity of the details added greatly to its solemnity. The entrance march was played on the harp, and during the ceremony the "Angel Serenade" was played.

The bride entered alone, preceded by her maid of honor, Miss Drusilla Sage, sister of the bridegroom. The best man was the bride's brother, George W. Bliss. The bridal couple stood in front of an embankment of palms and ferns. The fireplace was similarly adorned, and the only flowers in the room were a single potted lavender lilac in profuse bloom and a wistaria frieze above the archway leading to the hall.

The wedding dinner was served at 7 o'clock, covers being laid for twenty-five. A long table extended through the library and dining room, and all the company was seated at the one table. The bride's cake was on the serving table with adornments of pink spun candy and ribbons. After the dinner the bride cut the cake. A runner of ferns and pink and yellow roses ran the length of the table, and formed its sole adornment. The places were marked with little birds holding the name cards in their bills. The birds for the women were pink, and yellow for the men. The bisque, cakes and confections were in yellow and white in conformity with the color scheme.

LANDS BIG CONTRACT.

Connersville News: Robert Huddleston of East Connersville was the successful bidder on a ditch in Rush county which will cost about $2,200. Mr. Huddleston does a large amount of work in this line and as his work gives general satisfaction he has little trouble in landing contracts.

WHITEHEAD CAFE

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace offers a Biograph film tonight, the subject of which is "His Sister-in-law." This is one of their newest pictures and is said to be very good. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star Grand will present one of those fine Imp dramas tonight entitled "Unreasonable Jealousy" and the song is entitled "Will You Forgive if I Forget." Tomorrow night will be shown the original picture of New York's "Chinatown and the Bowery," fully explained by a competent lecturer. Clarence T. Eward of Greensburg pleased large audiences last night with his solo, "The Tree on the Tower." The song is a beautiful piece of composition and should make a hit.

The Vaudet will offer a big program tonight with the usual double program of two reels of pictures. The first film will display a picture of unusual merit in the Imp subject, "The Poor Student." The subject implies that the story has to do with college life, which makes a very lively topic for novel situations. The second, "Young Lord Stanley," a Thanhouser film, is equally as good as the first topic. It is a very thrilling story of lords and queens in which the young lord refuses to be married to his father's choice and which causes a peculiar situation. A new illustrated song will be sung.

English's opera house, Indianapolis, offers on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, January 16, 17 and 18 an attraction that will give a rare opportunity to the German citizens and to those interested in German literature—the Oberammergau Bauern Theater (German Peasant Players). This company is made up of twenty of the best peasant players from Oberammergau and the surrounding district. The organization filled a brief engagement last spring in the United States and the response with which it met there caused it to return to America early this October. The plays which it offers deal with the life of the Bavarian peasant and while the plots possess intense dramatic qualities, they are at the same time simple and direct, so that their significance is clear to those not thoroughly acquainted with the Germanland. All paraphernalia, costumes and properties used during the performance are brought from Bavaria, so that they create accurately the atmosphere in which the plays and dances have their origin in Bavaria.

Without saying anything more, Cayley blew out the candle, opened the door into the tunnel and took up his furred wings. With trembling hands he helped him spread them and draw them taut.

As he adjusted the straps across his shoulders, he felt her hands again, upon his head, felt them clasp behind his neck.

"Goodby," she said. He was trembling all over, as her hands were, but it was not with fear. "I shall come back safe," he said. "Nothing can harm me tonight."

He pulled her up close in his enfolding arms and kissed her mouth. In an instant he turned and dived off the cliff-head into the night.

He headed up into the wind, and hung for a moment soaring upon a fairly steady current of air that poured along parallel to the cliff.

When he reached the glacier he checked his speed a little and slanted down to an altitude of not more than two or three hundred feet above the crest. He hardly expected a glimpse of Roscoe so soon, having no reason to think he would be here, but he began scanning the earth's surface closely with the idea of accustoming his eyes to the light and the distance. Yet it was not his eyes, but his sensitive nostrils which gave him his first hint of the probable whereabouts of the man he was looking for.

The frozen air which he had been drawing deep into his lungs was odorless, save for the faintly acrid suggestion of ozone about it—a thing, by the way, which he was puzzled to account for, unless it presaged some titanic electrical display in the sky.

But the odor which now invaded his fastidious nostrils automatically checked his flight. He tilted back his planes and his momentum sent him towering almost vertically aloft. He did not analyze it—not that first instant, but his sensation was the same one that makes a dog suddenly throw up its head and snarl, bristling.

It a moment he knew that it was smoke, the smoke of no clean, sparkling wood fire, but of smouldering bones and the flesh of some animal.

Slowly he began to descend in the sweeping circles of a great spiral, constantly searching with an eagerness, which amounted almost to an agony, for the point of angry red which would tell him where his enemy was to be found. He had no doubt at all that his enemy was there. The man who had laid that fire was likely to be sleeping beside it.

He was within 20 feet of the level of the ice before his little mirror of concave silver caught the gleam of red that he was looking for.

He threw his head back sharply and gazed at it. He could not see the fire itself—that must be hidden behind the great rock which almost blocked the entrance to what must be the cave. The gleam he had caught in his mirror had been reflected in turn from the gleaming surface of a mass of ice a little farther out.

He slanted away again, searching now for a level place to alight, found it within 100 yards of the cave-mouth, circled once completely round, to make sure that he could not be surprised in the act of getting clear of his wings, and a moment later came down soundlessly, except with a faint slither of his planes, upon the ice.

Stealthily Made His Way Toward the Cave.

He bounded almost instantly to his feet, slipped his knife out of his belt and held the hilt of it between his teeth while he furling his planes. That done, he deposited the bundle in the angle of a projecting rock, and stealthily made his way toward the cave-mouth.

At the very edge of the shelter afforded by the rock he paused for an instant; then, with every nerve tuned to the highest pitch—with every muscle in a state of supple relaxation, yet instantly ready for any demand that might be made upon it—he stepped round the corner and into the mouth of the cave.

Probably no apparition of the monster he expected to find there—no sight of him towering expectant, armed, anticipating all that Cayley hoped to do, and ready to frustrate it, could have been so terrifying to Philip as the thing he actually saw, which was—nothing. At least, so far as a first glance into the cave would reveal, his enemy was not there.

Cayley shuddered, not with fear, and yet with a sensation stronger than disgust. It was as if a leopard had been standing over the deserted lair of a hyena. A wild beast's lair it was and not a human habitation.

The floor was littered with feathers and half-gnawed bones. The rocky walls dripped with oil snot of his horrible cooking. The foul air of the place was actually iridescent. But the real horror of it lay in the fact that Roscoe was not there.

Cayley's reasoning faculties attacked that blind, irrational horror with all their force. From the condition of the fire it was evident that Roscoe had been gone several hours. It was almost certain that he would return soon. Cayley's arrival in his absence really gave him an immense advantage. A man always comes unwarily into the place he calls home. If Roscoe came back now he would have no chance at all against Cayley's quick spring and the flash of the long knife-blade.

Certainly it was reasonable to expect that Roscoe would wait for another moonrise before setting out on any serious sort of expedition, and, if that assumption were correct, he might be returning to the cave at any moment.

He strode abruptly back to the cave-mouth. As he did so, however, his eye alighted on something that made him pause—something so strangely out of keeping with its surroundings that it caused him—or he thought that was the reason—a sense of recognition, almost of familiarity.

The thing which so evidently did not belong to Roscoe that it seemed almost to belong to Philip himself, was a gold locket. It lay on a flat bit of rock, which seemed to serve Roscoe's purpose as a table. The objects which surrounded it—an irregular piece of raw walrus hide, an overturned bottle of whale oil, with a smudgy wick in it, a saltmaker's needle and some scraps of canvas, together with some scavings of food—all spoke so loud of Roscoe and made such a contrast with this bit of jewelry that Cayley's action in stooping to pick it up was automatic.

He held it in his hand a moment as if he did not know quite what to do with it, then put it in his pocket and went out of the cave. Only during the moment when it had first caught his eye had it really commanded his attention at all. By the time he got outside of the cave he had forgotten it.

On That Basis Johnson's Drug Store Will Sell You a Bottle of Parisian Sage Hair Grower.

Hair must have nourishment or die. If it does not have proper nourishment it will lose its vitality, grow weak, and become an easy prey to the ravages of the vicious germs of dandruff.

Parisian Sage is a hair nourisher; it is the result of sincere study and experiment by one of the world's leading scientists.

It should be used regularly as a hair dressing by everyone with healthy hair, because it never fails to prevent dandruff, falling hair, or any scalp disease.

But Parisian Sage is not only a preventive it is a certain cure for dandruff; it stops itching scalp instantly; it makes hair grow thick and luxuriant. It is especially in demand by ladies, because it makes the hair beautiful, soft and fluffy. It is sold by Johnson's Drug Store and druggists everywhere, under a positive guarantee to do all that is claimed for it, or money back.

Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by the American makers, the Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y. The girl with Auburn hair is on every package.

air outside of the cave were all he needed to revive him, physically. But to his surprise they did not suffice to rid him of the feeling which he regarded as superstitious, namely, the impulse to fly back to Jeanne as fast as wing could carry him.

He had every reason to believe that she was safe, he told himself. She was armed with a heavy revolver, was a good shot and had plenty of nerve. She was in a place, the only avenue of access to which would give her a tremendous advantage over any invader. So that, even supposing the worst—supposing that Roscoe's absence were taken to mean that he had gone to make an attack on the pilot house, there could hardly be a doubt that Jeanne would kill him.

His reasoning was all based on the assumption that the pilot house was inaccessible to any wingless creature except by way of the ice chimney. Even now, when his fear for the girl was amounting to a superstition of almost irresistible intensity, it did not occur to him to question that.

He steadied himself as best he could and crouched down in the shelter of the big rock to await Roscoe's return.

He had hardly settled himself here when he saw something that made him shake his head impatiently, and swear a little. It was the winking glow of an aurora borealis, off to the north.

Cayley gazed at the spectacle unwillingly, but still he gazed. And, somehow, though he fought the feeling desperately, it began to assume a personal significance to him—a significance of mockery. The whole sky was quivering with vast, silent laughter. Was it because he, with his fancied cleverness and daring in finding Roscoe's lair and waiting for his return to it, was really doing precisely the thing that Roscoe would have had him do? Were those sky-witches laughing over what was happening up at the pilot house while he sat here and waited?

No intelligence, no sane power of consecutive reasoning can resist this sort of thing definitely, and at last Cayley's power of resistance came to an end.

He sprang to his feet, at last, dripping with sweat, in spite of the cold, caught up his bundled wings, unfurled them and took the air with a rush. Once he had jerked himself aloft to a height a little above the crest of the cliff, it was hardly more than a matter of seconds before he came opposite the dome-like mound of snow which covered the pilot house.

the tunnel entrance. But that was as he had expected it to be. He made it out easily enough; and in another moment had alighted there. "Jeanne!" he called.

It was not the exertion of flight, but a sudden intolerable apprehension that made him breathless. The word had halted a little in his throat. Exactly as he uttered it he saw down the tunnel, and in the pilot house itself, a tiny spark of fire, and heard the click of steel against flint.

What the spark illuminated were the fingers of a gigantic, hairy hand. "Jeanne!" he called again, and now his voice came clear enough. "Wait a minute and I'll make a light for you." To be continued.

STOKES JACKSON HAS A FORMIDABLE RIVAL

Tammany Candidate May Beat Him To Coveted Place.

Indianapolis, Jan. 12.—Among the friends of Stokes Jackson, Democratic state chairman, who is being pushed for the place, the report here that former Congressman Ryan of New York is to be a candidate for the office of sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives and that he will be backed by Tammany Hall has created great uneasiness. Private dispatches from Washington say that Ryan will have the support of the New York delegation and that inasmuch as the speakership and two other places will be filled by southern men, something may have to be conceded to New York and to Tammany. Dan Ransdell, an Indiana man, has been sergeant-at-arms of the senate for years and though he is a Republican, it is said that this fact is being used at Washington against Jackson and in favor of Ryan, but the local Democrats are more afraid of Charles W. Murphy's influence than of anything else in the fight for the place. A carload of Indians will go to Washington Monday to boom Jackson's candidacy.

So confident are we of the efficacy of this clean, simple treatment, that we make you this unusual offer.

ZEMO is a clean liquid for external use that has cured so many cases of eczema, pimples, dandruff and other forms of skin eruption. ZEMO and ZEMO soap are sold by druggists everywhere and in Rushville by Wolcott's Drug Store.

ZEMO and ZEMO soap are the most economical as well as the cleanest and most effective treatment for affections of the skin or scalp, whether on infant or grown person. F. E. Wolcott's drug store.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs—

TIZ Cured Her Quick.

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes." No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

A STRANGE CASE

Police of Albany and Troy Puzzled Over Mysterious Poisoning.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 12.—A baffling murder mystery is puzzling the police forces of Albany, Troy and Schenectady. Harry Spankland of Albany was hunting in a lonely field on the Danker farm on the Schenectady road a few miles west of this city, when he found the dead body of a boy apparently five years old. Near the body was found an empty bottle labeled carbolic acid and the appearance of the boy's mouth, lips and throat prompts the police to believe the deadly fluid was forced into the boy's mouth. Despite the fact that the body was found in a muddy field, a thousand feet from the road, there was no trace of dirt on the lad's clothing. The police suspect the boy was kidnapped from some other city, killed and the body thrown into the field. The boy was dressed in a white Lord Fauntleroy suit, had black stockings on, but no shoes and no hat. He had a full, round chubby face, light curly hair, and his general appearance and the quality of his clothing made it appear that he was a child of well-to-do people.

There is no boy reported missing in this vicinity, which fact has the police all the more puzzled over the case. The name of the Madison Pharmacy of Albany was on the carbolic acid bottle, but the druggist at this store cannot recall having sold the particular phial.

TO LOOK INTO THAT "JACKPOT"

The First Definite Step Was Taken in This Direction When Senate Committee Reported Senator Holtzslaw's Resignation Effective—This Was Followed by Resolution Authorizing a Thorough Inquiry Into the Case.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 12.—When the committee of the Illinois senate reported Senator Holtzslaw's resignation effective, and requested another resolution empowering the committee to subpoena witnesses and administer oaths, the first definite step toward a thorough investigation of the sensational bribery charges which grew out of the Lorimer election and the so-called legislative "jackpot" was taken. Immediately following this a resolution was offered by Senator Hurlburt, authorizing a deep probe, and clothing the special committee with the authority requested. Both the resolutions of the committee and the Hurlburt resolution were laid over until next Tuesday, when they will be taken up on special order.

That a thorough investigation will be authorized by the senate there is little doubt. Senator Hurlburt's resolution clothing the committee with powers to carry on a complete inquiry, gives as a reason that "certain official misconduct on the part of certain members of the senate has been charged, wherein it is alleged that certain senators have violated their oaths of office in that they have knowingly and intentionally paid, contributed or received something, or have made or received some promise or promises in the nature of a bribe with intent to influence directly or indirectly the official action of a member of the general assembly."

He Has Had Enough.

Aurora, Ill., Jan. 12.—George W. Alschuler, representative in the Illinois legislature from the Fourteenth district and minority leader of the house, announces that he will not be a candidate for re-election. He will retire from state politics after the adjournment of the present general assembly.

SEVEN MISSING

It Is Believed Their Bodies Are in Cincinnati Fire Ruins.

Cincinnati, Jan. 12.—Seven persons are missing, and it is nearly certain that all of these were victims of the Chamber of Commerce fire and that their bodies are buried in the still smoldering ruins. The supposed victims are Charles S. Sibbald, secretary of the Early, Daniel company; Brent Marshall, vice president of the Early, Daniel company; George F. Hayman, a reporter for the Enquirer; Fred Semneil, night manager chamber of commerce; Chris Meents, night fireman, chamber of commerce; Lester Buchanan, colored porter employed by Early, Daniel company; unidentified man. Fire Marshal Strieff announced that the ruins would have to cover for perhaps a week the men whose bodies have not been found.

SENTENCE AFFIRMED

Supreme Court Affirms Conviction of John Wilson, Wife Slayer.

Indianapolis, Jan. 12.—The supreme court has affirmed the Fayette circuit court in the conviction of John Wilson for the murder of his wife, Lulu Maud Wilson, at her home in the Waterloo road near Connersville, the third day of March, 1909. Wilson was tried once, and the jury disagreed. At the second trial he was convicted of murder in the first degree, but was granted a third trial, and was then convicted of murder in the second degree and was sentenced to the state prison for life. From his conviction and sentence he appealed.

One May Overcome

constipation permanently by proper personal co-operation with the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, when required. The forming of regular habits is most important, and while endeavoring to form them the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is most valuable, as it is the only laxative which acts without disturbing the natural functions and without debilitating and it is the one laxative which leaves the internal organs in a naturally healthy condition, thereby really aiding one in that way. To get its beneficial effects, buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is never classed by the well-informed with medicines which make extravagant and unfounded claims to cure habitual constipation without personal co-operation.

SENATOR HUGES

Colorado Statesman Dead at Denver After Long Illness.

SENATOR HUGHES OF COLORADO IS DEAD

Succumbed To Paralysis After a Long Illness.

Denver, Col., Jan. 12.—Charles James Hughes, jr., Democrat, United States senator from Colorado, is dead. He was born in Missouri in 1853, and removed to Denver in 1879. He succeeded Henry M. Teller in the senate in 1909, and his term would have expired in 1915.

Death is believed to have resulted from paralysis. The senator had been ill for two years, but his real breakdown came at the "chuck dinner" given by the Denver Press club to Theodore Roosevelt here last August. Senator Hughes was stricken while talking to Mr. Roosevelt. He spent several weeks in Hawaii in search of health, but showed no improvement, and came back last fall. Since then he had been slowly declining, and his family had expected death for several days.

The Colorado legislature being in session, a successor to the dead senator must be elected by it, but this promises to be a matter of delay.

UNCLE JOE BESIEGED.

Begging Letters From All Parts of the Union Reaching Him.

Washington, Jan. 12.—During the past week hundreds of begging letters asking for a total of $18,000,000 have been received by Speaker Cannon. Ever since the publication of the fact that Uncle Joe had received notice from Bombay bankers that a client had made a will making him sole heir to a fortune of $2,500,000, he has been pestered to death by individuals, partnerships, corporations, colleges and schools, churches, charitable organizations, benevolent bodies, altruistic associations, philanthropic guilds and reform circles, with importunities to contribute. Nor have the widow and orphans been idle. There are many in various states of the Union who will die of starvation in the next week or ten days unless Mr. Cannon helps them. Incidentally, they are doomed. One college in the south is enthusiastic over the immediate construction of a "Cannon Industrial Hall." The president of this institution is confident that a neat building with Uncle Joe's name on it could be erected for about $500,000.

Mr. Cannon waxed so eloquent when the first batch of begging letters came to him that most of the others have been kept out of his sight. L. White Busbey, his secretary, is handling all the letters of this sort, many of which, owing to the responsible sources from which they originate, have to be formally answered. Incidentally, Mr. Busbey's hair is turning gray and his disposition is suffering.

Railroads Not Required to Provide Separate Sleepers For Negroes.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 12.—That railroads cannot be required to provide separate compartments in sleeping cars for white and negro passengers, was the decision of the court of appeals in the case of the commonwealth of Kentucky against the Illinois Central railroad.

The court held that inasmuch as the sleeping cars are not owned and controlled by the railroads, that the railroads cannot be compelled to interfere with their operation.

Children Caught in Barn Blaze.
Indianapolis, Jan. 12.—Lawrence Huntington, four-year-old son of Ora Huntington, and Spencer N. Hoage, five-year-old son of Marlon S. Hoage, were burned to death in a fire which destroyed their grandfather's barn east of the city.

Lad Killed by Explosion.
Washington, Ind., Jan. 12.—Walter Wallace, aged fifteen, was instantly killed by an explosion of two kegs of powder in the magazine of Pruett mine. Wallace stopped in the building to warm and in some unknown manner caused the powder to explode.

DENOUNCED BY FELLOW MASON

For First Time Masonic Letter Gets Into Court.

AN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIR

A Cuban Mason, Convicted of Forgery in New York, Appealed to New York Grand Lodge, Which Received From Cuban Grand Lodge in Reply to Inquiry a Letter Full of the Bitterest Denunciation.

New York, Jan. 12.—Denounced by his Masonic brethren as a scoundrel, a swindler and an assassin, Manuel Alvarez, alias Balmero Mendoza, who was convicted three months ago of the forgery of a check for $25,000, was arraigned for sentence before Judge Rosalsky in general sessions.

It was remarked that this was the first time in the history of the Masonic order that its communications figured in open court. The communication, which was read to the prisoner by the judge, was from the grand secretary of the Masons in Cuba and was addressed to E. M. L. Ehlers, grand secretary of the grand lodge of New York state. It was in reply to a letter written by Mr. Ehlers when Alvarez, after his conviction, appealed to the Masons of this state for help, claiming that his troubles were due to the persecutions of President Gomez of the republic of Cuba, because of his activities in the revolutionary party. The letter from the secretary of the grand lodge of Cuba states that Alvarez was a Master Mason, but that legal steps had been instituted to revoke his diploma, which fell through owing to his flight from the country. The letter contained this sentence: "Alvarez is a grafter, a swindler, a scoundrel, a usurper of properties belonging to his brother, and was implicated in the assassination of a Spanish officer."

Alvarez was sentenced to Sing Sing for no less than three and a half years nor more than nine and a half years for forgery in the second degree.

SENATOR STEPHENSON NOT MUCH CONCERNED

Says He Is Not Going To Lose Any Sleep.

Washington, Jan. 12.—Senator Stephenson of Wisconsin says he is not going to lose any sleep over the charges made against him by members of the committee appointed by the Wisconsin legislature in 1909 to investigate Mr. Stephenson's primary campaign and election to the United States senate. When told that members of the committee had decided that he was guilty of having made a too free use of money in his campaign for election as senator, Mr. Stephenson said: "The report is made by the minority of the committee, being the product of one Democrat and two progressives. The majority of the committee made its report last year and found nothing irregular in the primary or the election. The minority did not see fit to make a report at the time. I have nothing to add to the report made by the majority, which refutes the report now placed before the governor."

TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

First Baptist Church Will be Three Years Old Sunday.

This week concludes the third year of the life of the First Baptist church of North Morgan street. On that account the third anniversary will be celebrated at the morning service at the church Sunday. The pastor, the Rev. E. C. Myers, will deliver a special sermon at that time. The ordinance of the Lord's supper will be observed and other special features are promised. It is desired that every member of the church be present and all friends of the church are cordially invited.

WORRY AND HURRY

are the two greatest foes to digestion
—and very few people reach the age of forty without falling a victim to indigestion in some form or other.

Undigested food is a serious menace to health and is the cause of headaches, sleeplessness, flatulency, gas and distress in the stomach, dependency, nervousness, bad breath and impure blood.

In such cases Vinol has a marked beneficial results. It seems to go directly to the seat of trouble, strengthens and tones up the tired, weakened nerves of the stomach, enabling one to digest with ease the very foods that once caused distress.

A case has just come to our attention in Barre, Vt. Mr. Samuel Wheeler suffered with a stomach trouble for years and had taken all kinds of medicines without relief, and at last found a cure in Vinol. He says Vinol was worth five dollars a bottle to him. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

If you suffer from any form of stomach trouble, try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. F. B. Johnson & Co., Druggists, Rushville, Ind.

PROPOSE A NEW FRANCHISE LAW

It Provides For a Vote of the People on the Issuance of Grants.

AN ELECTION MIGHT BE HELD

Bill is Intended to Act as Curb on Very Greedy Service Corporations.

A bill to be known as the Grube-Shively bill, will be for the referendum in cities and towns in Indiana, says an Indianapolis dispatch. The bill, it is understood will be introduced by Senator Harry E. Grube of Plymouth, who at present is making an exhaustive study of the methods of regulating legislation in the municipalities of the State. Senator Bernard B. Shively of Marion has gone into the proposition thoroughly, according to his statement, and believes that the bill has drafted will fit the large majority of cases in the State, where, he says, referendum is needed to check the franchise-giving habits of the city and town officials.

The proposed law is meant to strike directly at and improve franchise conditions in all cities and towns of the State. Senator Shively said, in explaining the proposed legislation, that it is time the issuance of franchises upon public utilities and other properties in which the voters in each city and town are deeply interested, should be referred to the voters themselves.

The ideas incorporated in the bill tend toward restriction of city and town officials in the matter of "putting over" franchises on the municipalities, from which large corporations or wealthy individuals may derive sums of money without those privileges being first referred to the residents of the city.

The bill provides that no ordinance passed by the city council or town board of any city or town in Indiana shall go into effect before thirty days from the time of its final passage and its approval by the mayor, and, if during the thirty days, a petition signed by electors of the city equal in number to at least 15 per cent of the number of voters casting ballots for all candidates in the preceding election at which a mayor was elected, protesting against the passage of such ordinance, be presented to the council or board, the same shall thereupon be suspended from going into operation.

MARION LOSES IN STOCK SALE

Is Granted Ten Days' Extension by Scott-Madden Company to Raise $30,000.

TO BUY PREFERRED STOCK

The Marion Commercial club failed in its endeavor to sell thirty thousand dollars worth of preferred stock in the Scott-Madden foundry of this city and Keokuk, Iowa Tuesday and has asked for a ten days' extension, so that they may have additional time. The owners of the two factories have granted the extension and it is generally believed that they will be successful in their attempt. They have already sold some of the stock but not the amount necessary to bring the combined factories to that city.

In case the Marion club falls down
in its efforts to locate the two plants, there are plenty other cities clamoring after the opportunity to get one.
